

Water Study Puts New City Supply to Northwest

In a story published in last week's Canyon News, the probability of a water shortage in Canyon this summer was given. The shortage could become serious within a short time if steps are not taken to provide additional sources of water supply. The following is an explanation of steps taken to obtain a new source by the city commission.)

Last August when the city commission discovered that the seven wells then supplying water for the city were inadequate, and that they could not produce enough water to allow unrestricted use during the summer months, a search for new sources of water supply was started.

Through the past several years, the present city commission and preceding commissions had attempted to obtain Buffalo Lake as a water supply and had investigated the possibilities of obtaining water from the Canadian River dam, if it is ever built. However, neither of these sources would be readily available—it might take seven or more years.

Since the shortage was near at hand, the only solution to Canyon's water problems appeared to be the opening of a new water underground field.

Records kept by the High Plains Underground Water District in Lubbock show the water-bearing Ogallala sands to be located in the northwest portion of Randall County and along the southern edge. The sands pinch out along the edge of the canyon—generally running up to the brink of the breaks and stopping.

Therefore, it appeared that the city must obtain water from wells located to the west and north of the city, up on the plains.

The commission investigated reports of irrigation wells in several areas, with the idea of finding an area which has good water in plentiful supply.

The commission felt that it should obtain water rights to an area large enough for expansion and large enough to protect the supply from overpumping by irrigation farmers.

Shortly after the first of the year, the commission settled on the general area lying mostly to the west of the city and slightly north.

In February they obtained a nine-months option to purchase water rights to four sections of land belonging to Mack Forrester of Amarillo. The land lies 12 miles west and three north of Canyon, straddling the break.

The waterfield belonging to the city of Amarillo lies to the east and north of the Forrester property.

The commission and the city's consulting engineer, Bill McMorries of Amarillo, went to Lubbock to the headquarters of the underground water district and got logs of wells drilled in the area. A contract calling for drilling 18 rotary test wells was let to W. L. McDonald of Amarillo, and drilling began in March.

All of the holes were drilled to redbed and three were cased with two-inch pipe for observation purposes—to allow studies of the static water level.

The 18 test holes showed that the static water level slopes down to the east and south on the Forrester property. The redbed slopes down in the opposite direction, to the north and west. The tops of the two formations run close to each other in the southeast section of the Forrester land.

The three test holes which were cased were drilled in the centers of the southeast, northwest and northeast sections of the Forrester land. The four sections are in a square block.

The cased hole in the southwest section shows 128 feet between the static water level and the bottom of the water bearing formation. The one in the northwest section shows 149 feet and the hole in the northeast section shows 101 feet.

McMorries recommended that the option for the southeast section, where the top of the water formation and the redbed come nearly together, be dropped if possible and other options be obtained on land to the north and west of the Forrester property.

Accordingly, the commission obtained options from C. G. Pond on sections that adjoin the Forrester land to the north and west.

Having located a suitable water field, McMorries prepared an estimate of the wells that should be drilled to handle the water demand for the next four to six years, based on population and use of studies already made.

He proposed three wells, one at the west edge of the southwest section, a second along the west edge of the northwest section and the third near the northwest corner of the northwest section.

He proposed an eight-inch pipeline from each of the three wells to a central 16-inch gathering line.

The 16-inch line would run into a tank, probably the tank given the city by the Santa Fe. It would have to be moved from its present location in town to the waterfield.

From the tank to the city, McMorries proposed a 16-inch line. He told the commission that water would flow under gravity from the tank to the city at a rate of about three million gallons a day.

At a later date, a small centrifugal pump could be installed at the tank to boost the flow to around nine million gallons a day. In McMorries' earlier study of use, the city would need about five million gallons a day in 1975, provided there is no sudden increase in population.

His report said that the gathering system to be installed at the water field would be adequate to handle the maximum number of wells which could be drilled in the area under option.

Included in the estimate of what will be needed to obtain the water, gather it at the field and move it to Canyon are 74,300 feet of 16-inch pipe, 4,000 feet of eight-inch pipe, three wells and moving the steel tank from town to the waterfield.

Arts Festival Continues at College

ANNUAL 'POPS' CONCERT SET

A program of some of the world's most popular and well-known concertos will be presented Sunday at 4 p. m. as a part of the Festival of Arts at West Texas State College.

Five soloists, accompanied by the 75-piece Concert Band and the Symphonette, will be featured. The program will be open to the public and is in the Administration Building auditorium.

Conducted by William O. Latson, the Symphonette will accompany the first three soloists. Tubal Cain, hornist from Canyon, will open the program with Haydn's "Concerto, D Major, Allegro."

Second selection features Janice Ruth of Dathart, pianist, playing Mozart's "Concerto, D minor, K. 466, allegro," and Alice Gordon, oboist from Amarillo, will play the third selection, the adagio and allegro movements of "Concerto for Oboe" by Cimarosa-Benjamin.

Following intermission, the band will accompany Juanelva Rose of Tulia, clarinetist, in playing Mozart's "Concerto for Clarinet and Orchestra, K. 622."

Final selection will feature Charlotte Lowe of Pampa, pianist, playing Weber's "Concertstuck." The last two selections were transcribed for band by Samuel A. Watson of Spearman and Wanda Young, formerly of Tulia.

Have Canyon Rites For C. F. Marshall

Memorial services for Charles Fay Marshall were conducted Thursday morning in Warren-Lagrange Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

A second service was conducted Friday in Graham. Burial was in the Pioneer Cemetery at Graham.

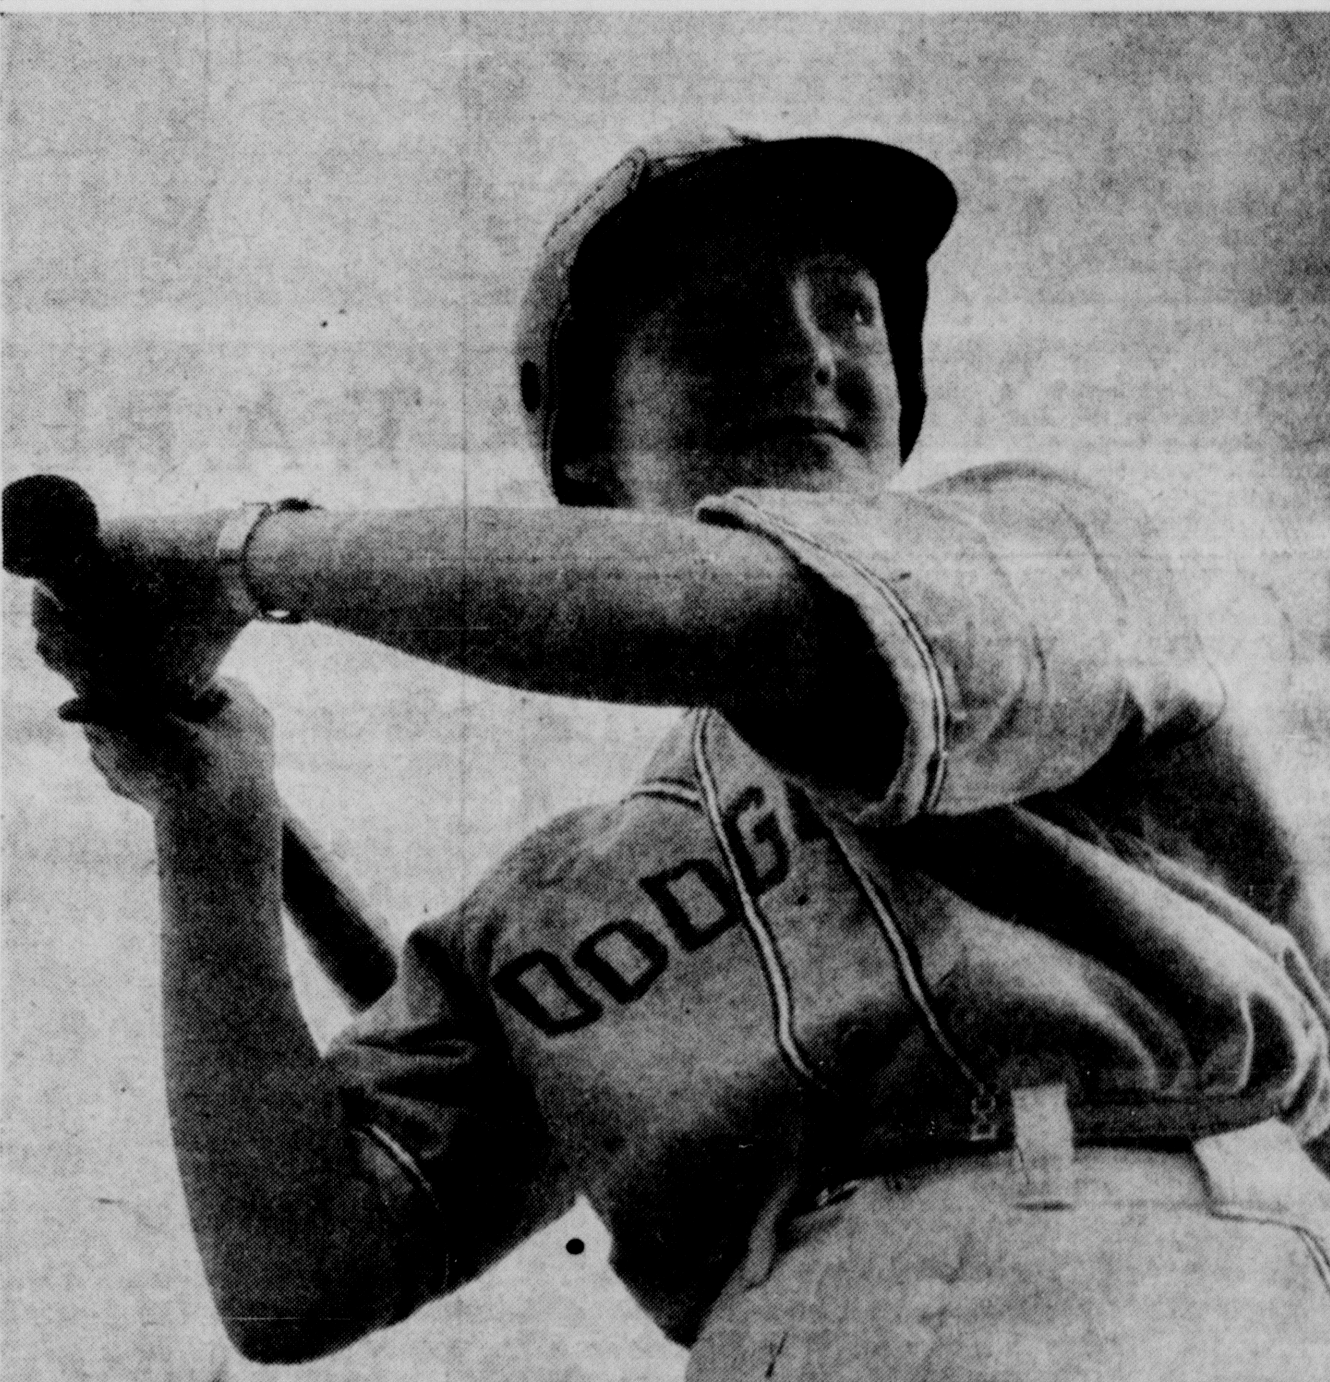

Mr. Marshall, 67, died at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in Neblett Hospital. He had been in failing health for several years. A retired attorney, he had lived on a ranch eight miles east of Canyon since 1947, when he moved here from Graham.

Mr. Marshall was a member of the Baptist Church in Graham, the Masonic Lodge, Shrine and Woodmen of the World.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Gladys Marshall; two sons, Douglas Marshall, Canyon, and Walter Marshall, Loveland, Colo.; three daughters, Mrs. Erlene Wallace, Dallas, Mrs. Anna Lee Williams, Wharton, and Mrs. Rosalind Cox, Wichita Falls; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Marshall, Canyon; two brothers, Fred Marshall and Elmer Marshall, both of Canyon; three sisters, Mrs. R. B. Burns, Bellflower, Calif., Mrs. Carl VanArsdell, Graham, and Mrs. Glenn Carter, Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. George Curyea of Panhandle visited in the John Guthrie home last week. The Curyeas are the parents of Mrs. Guthrie.

Batter's Up and Ready

With tryouts for the Randall County Little League beginning Monday, Bill Jarnagin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Jarnagin, has his eye on a slot on one of the major teams. Wearing a uniform of the Dodgers, Bill also wears a helmet which all batters will use for protection. Other teams in the league will be the Yankees, Redlegs and Dodgers. Tryouts for eight, nine and 10-year-olds will begin at 5 p. m. Monday.

Troop 66 Takes Boy Scout Field Day For First Winner Outside Amarillo

For the first time in the history of the Boy Scout Field Day in the Llano Estacado Council, a troop located outside of Amarillo was presented with the President's Trophy at the close of the annual field day Sunday.

The Earl O'Keefe President's Trophy was presented to Troop 66 of Canyon by Sam George, chief judge of the field day.

Troop 66 was tied for first place with Troop 13 of Amarillo at the close of competition Saturday evening. Both troops had identical scores except in attendance. Both troops had eight "A's" and one "B"—both had earned a "B" in knot tying.

Troop 66 was out in front of Troop 13 by seven points due to the attendance figures.

Competition was resumed after church Sunday morning in drizzling rain. Team cooking was the first event of the morning and both Troop 66 and 13 came up with "A's" in the event.

Firebuilding by flint and steel proved to be a real thriller with contestants from Troop 66 boiling their water over in the time limit of 10 minutes for an "A" rating. Troop 13 also received an "A."

The gap began to widen after the contest in Fire by Friction. Troop 66 came in first with an "A" and Troop 13 received a "B." After this, Troop 13 fell way behind.

The final score was 742 points for Troop 66 and 690 points for Troop 13. An "A" was worth 45 points, a "B" 30 points and a "C" 15 points.

The event that presented the greatest challenge to Troop 66 was the contest in Fire by Friction. When the names of the contestants (Con't. on Back Page Section 1)

Gentle Rain Sparks Crop Prospects

Excellent prospects for crops have come in sight for Randall County with the additional slow rain which fell over last weekend and soaked gently into the ground.

The rain, which totaled .82 of an inch in Canyon and ranged between one and two inches in the country areas, fell from Saturday night until Monday afternoon in light showers and steady drizzle. Roads sloppy from mud have made travel in the country difficult.

The weekend moisture brought the year's total to 5.31 inches in Canyon, while some areas in the county have had more than seven inches—more than parts got all last year.

County Agent John Brazzil estimated that the moisture has now gone as deep as two feet. He said he measured in spots before the last rain and the moisture was down about 18 inches.

The spring rains have brought good prospects for some dryland wheat. That which came up last fall should make a pretty good harvest, Brazzil said. Some which came up in February when the rains started might make up to eight or 10 bushels.

"We sure can't write it off now," Brazzil said.

He said the best help from the rain will come to irrigation farmers, who will not have to pre-water their fields so heavily. The rain will save considerable money.

Brazzil said that in previous years, good yields have come from irrigated land, but the cost of production has been high because of the extensive watering necessary. With the moisture from the rain, less watering will be necessary and the profit margin will be higher, he said.

Probation Given Reitz Burglar

Tommy Cox, 17, of Amarillo received a sentence of four years adult probation on a plea of guilty for the Feb. 28, 1956, burglary of Reitz Service Station east of Canyon on the Palo Duro Highway.

The sentence was given Monday in 47th District Court by Judge E. E. Jordan.

Play Highlights Events Slated During Middle of Week Nights

Observance of the third annual Festival of the Arts will continue this week at West Texas State College through special events presented by the music, art and speech departments. The public is invited to all affairs. Second and third performances of "The Willow Tree," a three-act mystery drama, will be given Wednesday and Thursday nights at 8:15 in the Branding Iron Theatre. Admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for high school students and children.

Crusade Appeals for An Additional $300

Only $300 is needed to reach the Randall County quota for the 1957 Cancer Crusade, Dr. J. B. Roberts, county chairman, has announced.

The quota is $1645 and Tuesday, $1345.85 had been collected.

Dr. Roberts said some people may have been missed during the house-to-house campaign, and they may contribute by sending a check to the American Cancer Society, Canyon, or by giving it directly to the county treasurer, James Cole, at the First National Bank.

Those who wish to increase their donations may do so in the same way, Dr. Roberts said.

"Let's put Randall County in the 100 per cent of quota list, and thus help our neighbors win this battle against one of our most dreaded diseases," he said.

"All of us are indebted to the voluntary workers who have done such an excellent job in this community effort," Dr. Roberts said.

Make Reservations For P-PHS Banquet

Only 400 seats will be available for the annual Panhandle-Plains Historical Society banquet May 10, and reservations should be made soon by those who plan to attend.

The banquet is usually a sellout before the day it is scheduled. Reservations may be obtained by contacting the museum.

Dr. W. M. Pearce, head of the history department at Texas Tech, will be the guest speaker. The author of a history of the Matador Ranch, Dr. Pearce will speak on "The Matador Ranch, 1879-1951."

The banquet is scheduled for the West Texas State College cafeteria in the evening. During the afternoon, the executive committee of the Historical Society will meet, followed by a membership meeting.

New officers will be elected at the membership meeting, which begins at 3 p. m. Other reports of the past year's work will be given.

HOLDUP MAN GETS 5 YEARS

Donald Frank McBea, 18, of Amarillo was given a sentence of five years in the state penitentiary in 47th District Court Monday for the Jan. 18 holdup of Harwood Grocery.

McBea pleaded guilty to the charge.

Trial for the second man charged with the robbery, Charles Norman Adams, 24, also of Amarillo, has been set for Monday.

Adams is presently out on $7500 bond. A jury has been called for Adams' trial.

New Grand Jury Sworn in Monday

The May term Randall County Grand Jury was sworn in Monday by District Judge E. E. Jordan.

Members of the grand jury are Frank Kimbrough, Jerry LaGrone, Wesley Cox, Cecil Briggs and Ray Cole, all of Canyon, Jack Frost and R. B. Gist Jr., both of Happy, and L. C. Becker, Tristram Coffin, Claude Curb, Forrest Hill and George W. Hirsch, all of Amarillo.

School Problems Panel Is Friday

A series of questions on school plants, teaching and support of schools will be asked a panel of educators and representatives of other organizations at the annual May Fellowship Day program Friday afternoon in the First Christian Church.

On the discussion panel will be Rex Reeves, principal of the elementary school, Bill Sternberg, secretary of the school board, Mrs. A. C. Haley Jr., representative of the P-T-A, and Bob Bellah, city commissioner. Subt. Joe Gibson had been scheduled for the panel, but will be out of town.

A panel of church women will ask the questions. On that panel are Mrs. David Mathis, Mrs. Joss Russell, Mrs. T. G. Hull Jr. and Mrs. H. P. Ball. A devotional period will precede the panel discussion, beginning at 1 p. m. An ensemble from the eighth grade, trained by Ada V. Clark, will perform during the devotional.

Members of the ensemble are Norma Hathaway, Peggy Sue Hales, Sue Fain, Junell Bauer, Josephine Hubbard, Janie Myer, Mary Barger, Linda Burgess and Patsy Seymour. The accompanist is Dorothy Higdon.

Earlier, the May Fellowship Day will get underway at 11:30 a. m. with a business meeting, which will be adjourned for a covered dish luncheon in the church basement.

The devotional is scheduled to begin at 1 p. m. and the panel discussion at 1:15 p. m. The general public is invited to attend any of the sessions.

Among the questions which will be asked are:

Is there sufficient up-to-date equipment for the needs?

Can our state provide sufficient funds for schools, teachers and curriculum?

Is the quality of education adequate?

Is there any thought being given to the cultivation and encouragement of wholesome leisure time activities in regard for needs arising from fewer days and shorter hours devoted to work by the modern adult?

How would you go about improving the quality of the over-all education in our town?

Which, if any, local organizations have been most active in the support of the public schools?

Is there a need for any more organized help, a citizens committee, perhaps?

Do the citizens of our town have confidence in their school system?

Has there been any destructive criticism of public education in our town? If so, what is the nature of the criticism?

Are there any effective and constructive ways for citizens to share in influencing the school program without actual interference?

Other questions have been planned for discussion.

And wasn't that a nice, wet weekend?

Look for it to rain again this afternoon and tomorrow. Likewise, next Monday and on Friday and Saturday week.

Those are the most likely periods during the first couple of weeks in May, according to a forecast printed in a Massey-Harris magazine I saw last week.

The forecast says that today and tomorrow will be cold and Friday and Saturday will be hot, or warm.

The days most likely for rain during May are 1, 2, 6, 10, 11, 20, 26, 27 and 28, according to the forecast. Those in June are 1, 2, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 18, 20, 21 and 22.

Why, shoot, if it rains just half of those days, they'll be talking about 1957 as a wet year.

We passed up an anniversary a couple of weeks ago in the rush of Easter. The anniversary, while it does not have the same effect as Easter, fell on the same day this year; and it has done a pretty fair job of playing an important role in our lives.

Early in the afternoon of April 21, 1836, a rag-tag lot of 700 to 800 English-speaking settlers armed to the teeth crossed a piddling little river down south of Houston and tried their best to wipe out an army of nearly 1,600 Mexicans.

Although they meant business, the warriors went into the battle singing a sort of romantic song called "Won't You Come to the Bower?" But along with the song they asked two more questions in their battle cry—"Remember the Alamo," and "Remember Goliad."

Those settlers were pretty-near successful in their aim. The Mexican Army was routed and the commander, Gen. Lopez de Santa Anna, was captured. Some 630 Mexicans were killed, another 280 wounded and 730 captured.

The whole business started maybe 10 years earlier. In 1821, an emigration from the United States to the Texas part of Mexico was undertaken. In 1826, a man named Hayden Edwards was given a grant of land near Nacogdoches, but when he arrived he found a man named Gil Ybarbo and his followers living there. Ybarbo had lived on the land for several years.

In the ruckus that followed, the Mexican government decided in favor of Ybarbo and Edwards threw a fit. He organized the Republic of Fredonia and declared Texas independent of Mexico. It didn't take long to run Edwards out and that Republic died.

But that action and other unrest caused the Mexican government to tighten the colonization policy, or what little policy there was, and a law was passed in April, 1830, that forbade further settlement of Americans in Texas.

When that happened, the Texans really began to look for independence.

A former American who had become a Mexican Army officer, Col. John D. Bradburn, was in command of the customs house at Anahuac. He tried to interfere in the plans of surrounding colonists who were trying to get legal title to the land where they were squatting. To make it worse, he arrested several colonists, apparently without cause. Among them was a fellow named William Barret Travis.

A group of Americans picked up their guns and attacked Anahuac on July 13, 1832, to release the prisoners. Bradburn promised to let the prisoners go and the armed band retired to the outskirts of town.

Bradburn fell down on his promise, but the settlers decided to wait for reinforcements. While they were camped on the Turtle Bayou they passed a resolution saying that the uprising was not a revolt against Mexico, but an expedition in behalf of Gen. Santa Anna, who was leading a revolution against President Bustamante.

Before the Texans could get around to attacking Anahuac again, a Mexican force under Col. Pedras came from Nacogdoches and released Travis and the other prisoners.

Not many shots were fired at Anahuac, but that battle is considered the first actual engagement of the growing Texas-Mexican controversy. A group bringing two cannon to the Texans camped at Turtle Bayou were refused passage on the Brazos by the Mexican commander at Velasco. The Texans weren't to be denied so they fought up a storm and won their battle on June 26, capturing the Mexican commander, Col. Domingo Ugartechea and his command.

Anyhow, Santa Anna won his revolt against Bustamante, and the Texas end of the revolt was won for him by the Texans. The Texans figured Santa Anna must be a good old Joe, so they held a couple of conventions at San Felipe in the fall of 1832 and the spring of 1833. They asked for certain governmental reforms like the right to use the English language in public business, the privilege of organizing a militia and the separation of the state of Coahuila-Texas.

At the second convention they wrote up a proposed state constitution and got Stephen F. Austin to carry it to Mexico City to show to Santa Anna for his approval.

Austin went to Mexico City, stuck around a while and got Santa Anna to promise the reforms. He started back home, but got thrown in the jug where he stayed 15 months. By that time Austin figured Santa Anna was not good for his promises, so he counseled that the Texans consider war. He got home just about the time everybody was in arms because Santa Anna's brother-in-law, Gen. Martin Perfect de Cos, was trying to arrest Travis.

Santa Anna decided to put Texas under military rule, put Gen. Cos in command of the northern states and stationed Col. Ugartechea in San Antonio in charge of the state of Coahuila-Texas.

Then on Oct. 2, 1835, the first battle of the Texas Revolution came. Col. Ugartechea sent a company to Gonzales to take possession of a cannon, but the Mexicans were attacked by the Texans and defeated. Volunteers poured into Gonzales and it was decided to march on San Antonio. On Oct. 11, Austin was elected commander-in-chief. A small band had surprised the Mexican garrison at Goliad on Oct. 9, and captured a large store of military supplies.

Things rocked along, the Texans took San Antonio in December. Santa Anna came to Texas with a force of 3,000 or 4,000 men and Travis got himself and 186 other Texans killed in the Alamo after holding out for quite a while. Santa Anna finally broke through the defenses on March 6. Other battles were taking place at other places in the state at the same time.

After winning battles around San Antonio, Santa Anna figured he'd won the war and spread his men out for a sweep across Texas. He went to Harrisburg and then down to the junction of the San Jacinto and Buffalo Bayous.

Sam Houston was commander-in-chief by that time and he fell back with his army, but somehow was left behind Santa Anna. So between April 14 and April 18, they went to Harrisburg and got to the San Jacinto on April 20.

The next afternoon, Houston and his army crossed the river, sang the love song and won the independence of Texas from Mexico. We haven't been the same since.

Marie — "Really! And when is the wedding?"

Let the man of the house have the final word on milady's Easter bonnet, says a New York milliner, whose name is one of the biggest in the business. That way there'll be fewer bad choices.

Well, for our part, we'd be glad to, but we're lucky — the man at our house has unusually good taste about women's apparel. We know a number of husbands, however, whose judgment would be much better on a real estate deal, a good Hereford yearling, or a second-hand car. And if we were married to any one of 'em, we'd go bareheaded before we'd ask his advice about an Easter bonnet!

Other usual mistakes made by women, says the famous milliner, are: Letting a friend choose one's hats; buying the same color or shape over and over; buying without ever seeing the whole effect the hat creates on you; and not trusting your milliner, who has more to gain than anyone else by having a happy and becomingly hatted customer.

We have some friends — and know some milliners — whose taste we would trust; others we'd never consult in a coon's age. We're quite sure we know more about how much we should spend on a hat than either friends or milliners. And the best way to keep that fact to ourselves is not to take along a friend when we buy one. In other words, the famous milliner evidently knows a heck of a lot more about hats than she does about people.

A man rushed excitedly into the smoking car of a train. "A lady has just fainted in the next car," he cried. "Has anybody got any whiskey?"

Immediately several flasks were brought out. He seized the nearest one, tilted it back took a drink and returned it, saying, "Thanks a lot. It always did make me feel sick to see a lady faint."

Buffalo Lake Paving Job Set for Contract Letting Date in June

A contract to pave the farm-to-market road around Buffalo Lake to the Castro County line will be let at the June letting date of the Texas Highway Commission, the Randall County Commissioners Court learned Monday.

The date had originally been set for the April letting date, but missed. The right of way has been ready for several weeks, but the project was being held up to obtain permission to fence the road where it passes around a portion of Buffalo Lake, instead of installing cattle guards.

Permission to fence the road was received from the Forestry Service about 24 hours after the April letting time for highway contracts. W. V. York, senior resident engineer in Canyon, told the commissioners.

He said that the road will receive at least one course of topping this year, but said he did not know if there would be enough time to finish the project before cold weather.

The project includes about 14 miles of paving, from the end of FM 1714 to Buffalo Lake and from the end of the paving which skirts in front of the lake dam to the junction with 1714, and from there to the Castro line. In Castro County, another farm-to-market road is being extended to join with the Randall County road.

When the project is finished, the pavement will extend from Umbarger south to Anton.

Fairview Breezes

We have been having showers the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wilson, and C. P. Rogers were in Tulsa Saturday morning on business.

Wanted by Woodrow Wesley, a fighting rooster and a billy goat.

The home demonstration club met at the community center Wednesday and finished the quilt they had started the previous week.

Those helping with the quilting were Mrs. Edna Wilson, Georgia Rogers, Fern Wilson, Grace Schaeffer, Evelyn Shipman, Madge Sutton, Collen Schaeffer, Lizzie Wesley, Lavena Amerson and Annie Wesley.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon. Final plans were completed for the bean supper Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wesley and family were visiting Friday evening in the J. W. Wesley home.

Georgia Rogers baby sat with her grandchildren Thursday while their mother shopped in Amarillo.

Woodrow Wesley and boys helped the J. W. and G. E. Wesleys and H. H. Shipman work cattle Saturday.

Mrs. Ella Hext and Faye Scott are vacationing in Hot Springs, N. M.

Mrs. Inez Shipman has closed the cafe in Happy and moved back to the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley and Lavena Amerson were in Amarillo on business Tuesday.

Oscar Read is at home in the Fairview community.

The bean supper was rained out Saturday evening.

To date we have received 1.30 of rain.

C. R. Wesley attended the scout camp at Camp Don Harrington over the weekend.

Bowie, Wesley and Gene Shipman attended the rodeo in Amarillo where both boys participated in the events.

Nan Earlyle Shipman, Pat Patterson and Grace Devin were in Abilene where they took part in volleyball. Happy was in the runoff Friday evening on their way to state.

Mrs. Gordon Foster and children accompanied by her father, Bill Gazzaway, and her stepmother, drove to Fort Worth Friday to visit with her sister and family, the Don Stonebergs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers enjoyed a bean supper in the G. E. Wesley home Saturday evening.

G. E. Wesley, E. W. Schaeffer and Charles Sutton report quite a bit of small hail Saturday evening.

Plantation Routine Subject of Article

The routine of operating a Southern plantation prior to the Civil War is outlined in an article by Dr. Lowell H. Harrison, associate professor of history at West Texas State College.

The article, published in the April issue of Kentucky's Filsion Club History Quarterly, was edited by Dr. Harrison from the papers of John Breckinridge, a Kentucky senator remembered primarily for his connection with the Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799.

A middle class planter, who moved from Virginia to Kentucky in 1793, Breckinridge was first a Blue Grass planter, even when he was away from home in politics. He left numerous instructions for operating his farm with the overseer and his slaves.

Dr. Harrison, a native of Kentucky, is the author of a biography of Breckinridge, and of a number of articles in historical journals in several states.

A second article on Breckinridge's economic activities as a planter, speculator and businessman, will be published in September in the William and Mary Quarterly. A third article has been accepted for publication in 1958 on the phase of westward movement representative of the middle class planter in Breckinridge's move from Virginia to Kentucky.

W. H. McAtee returned Saturday from a two week visit in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Tippery returned Sunday after attending the funeral of his stepfather, W. E. Ball. They left after the funeral Thursday.

Mrs. Gladys Haines spent the weekend in Abilene with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Perry.

Mrs. N. E. McIntire returned home Tuesday after a two weeks convalescence at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. She is improving.

Mrs. Lee Chandler of Borger spent last week in the home of her sister, Mrs. C. N. Tippery.

Mrs. Lloyd McAtee was called to Ardmore, Okla., Monday night to the bedside of her grandmother.

Reorganization of the Insurance Commission is a supercharged issue again.

More than a month ago the Senate passed a bill that would sweep out present commissioners and allow the governor to name a new board. But the House State Affairs Committee shunted it off to an unfriendly subcommittee.

Some thought it would die there. Then a verbal battle broke out between John Osorio, chairman of the commission, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Osorio, who was appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers, will lose his job if Governor Daniel's reorganization plan goes through.

In answer to questions from Rep. Jerry Sadler, Osorio said that Daniel had offered to help him find another job if he would support reorganization. Osorio replied that he felt such a "deal" would violate his oath of office.

Osorio also said, in answer to Sadler's questions, that the governor apparently did not oppose his confirmation by the Senate until after the Commission had closed down the ICT Insurance Co. Governor Daniel called the charges false. He said he had expected personal attacks to result from his efforts for reform. Then he declared he would fight "even harder for cleanup and reorganization."

In reply to the governor's accusation of a "false" charge, Osorio offered to take a lie detector test, if Daniel would.

House committee members, meanwhile, took new looks at the reorganization bill, admitted to being in a tight spot. Sentiment is reportedly very evenly divided.

Annual Sessions Favored
With time running out on this session, the prospect of annual sessions in the future is gaining favor.

Senate gave preliminary approval to a measure for annual sessions and $7,500-a-year salaries for legislators. House passed a similar version with only $4,800 a year pay.

Sessions on odd-numbered years would be as now. On even-numbered years a short budget appropriation session would be held.

Measure is a constitutional amendment which would require approval of the voters in November, 1958.

Slum Bill Moves
Texas cities would be able to get federal aid for cleaning up blighted areas under a bill given final House passage.

Senate State Affairs Committee blackballed the same bill 9 to 8. But supporters gained an unusual victory when the Senate voted 23-6 to accept the report of the committee minority.

Opponents attacked as unconstitutional the provision allowing a city to condemn property for sale to private parties. Backers said the bill had safeguards to prevent abuse of condemnation powers.

Segregation Up To Senate
Enactment of 8 bills designed to preserve school segregation is in the hands of the Senate.

Sponsors predicted an easy majority in the upper house. However, two South Texans whose constituencies are already integrated promised opposition. Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and Sen. Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio indicated they might try to talk the bills to death in an end-of-session filibuster.

Measures already given House approval would (1) allow school boards to assign pupils to schools, (2) exempt children from compulsory attendance at integrated schools, (3) authorize state to pay tuition for pupils to segregated non-sectarian schools where no segregated public school is available, (4) authorize school boards to designate schools as "White," "Negro" or "integrated," (5) direct the attorney general to defend anti-segregation suits against the state, (6) require registration of persons paid to work for integration, (7) prohibit public employ-

I GIVE YOU TEXAS By BOYCE HOUSE

Remarkable things, or what seem remarkable things, sometimes have very simple explanations.

I remember when I was maybe 10, one night in a South Texas small-town hotel lobby, a man told me that he had such keen eyes that he could tell which end of a domino had the larger number of spots, with the domino face down. He did not claim to be able to see through the half inch of black wood but his method was to set the domino spinning and then, he said, the end with the most spots offered less resistance to the air and therefore that end wobbled more.

Watch as hard as I could, I was unable to detect any difference but he said he could because he had such keen eye-sight. And every time, he was correct, too. Finally, however, he called my attention to the design on the back: an eagle. He said, "The eagle's beak always points to the end with the most dots." And, unless it was a double, that the case.

Baffling—yet simple, wasn't it?
Soon after joining the Fort Worth Star-Telegram staff in 1931, I was walking down the street in Abilene with Prexy Anderson, then sports editor there. A car was ment of NAACP members and (8) ban future integration without a local school district vote.

Teacher Money Sought
Two bills aimed at gaining funds for teacher pay raises probably will be debated this week. Each has gained committee approval in both houses.

One would double tuition at state colleges for an estimated $10,000,000 more in revenue. Another would make one per cent of the permanent school fund available for current spending. It would bring in $7,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Added to a predicted $27,000,000 surplus in the general fund, passage of the two bills would bring to about $47,000,000 the amount available for teacher raises. Teachers originally asked a basic $399-a-year boost, plus improvement in the schedule of increases for experience. This would cost a total of $67,000,000.

Governor Daniel suggested a compromise whereby teachers would get the basic raise, but not the experience increase. Teacher spokesmen have indicated probable acceptance.

Women Gain Ground
Women's clubs won a modified victory with Senate passage of a much-patched separate property bill. It would give married women authority to manage their own estates without husband's consent. A number of restrictive amendments were put in before passage. One would require a woman be 21 before assuming estate management "to prevent a 14-year-old girl from getting married and throwing away her inheritance."

REA Compromise Okayed
A bill designed to smooth over the squabble between private and cooperative utilities has been voted out of committee in both houses.

Bill stems from a recent Supreme Court decision limiting activities of REA co-ops.

Proposed changes in law would allow a co-op to continue to serve old customers in an area after it is annexed by a city and add new customers where private power is not available.

Short Snorts
After two months delay the Senate okayed the House-passed Pool bill requiring a runoff in special elections for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large.

Legal Security Life Insurance Company won the right to continue business after a show cause hearing before the Board of Insurance Commissioners. Board called some of the company assets overvalued, but did not find the one-third impairment of capital required by statute for dissolution.

Friends of Speaker Waggoner Carr are pushing him for a second term. His only comment is that he's too busy now for politicking.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has approved continuance of emergency feed program in 119 Texas counties.

The Thanksgiving snafu whereby Texas celebrates the last Thursday in November and the rest of country the fourth Thursday is apparently to be cleared up. A Bill making the Texas holiday conform passed both houses.

Mrs. Clark Is Hostess To Arrow Point Club

Mrs. Bill Clark on Western Ave. was hostess to the Arrow Point Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon, April 23. Mrs. Earl Marrs gave a report on the bake sale held Friday at Furr Food. Plans were completed for a social April 27 at 8 p. m. in the Farm Bureau building in Canyon.

Mrs. L. C. Roberson, president, gave the program concerning allergies, the causes and effects.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Frank Ham, Mrs. Glenn Burrell, Mrs. Tony Callison, Mrs. E. T. McClenny, Mrs. Marrs, Mrs. Frank Carroll and the hostess.

The next meeting will be an all day meeting starting at 1 p. m. May 14 in the home of Mrs. Roberson.

parked and two men were talking to the man at the wheel. "I want you to meet him," Prexy said. He addressed the man in the car, "This is Boyce House of the Star-Telegram and, Boyce, this is our chief of police." I said, "I'm glad to meet you" and called him by name (which Prexy hadn't mentioned). His friends looked surprised and he beamed at this evidence that he was famous.

I didn't bother to explain that, until a few weeks before, I had been editor in a neighboring county, read the Abilene Reporter every day and, since that city elected the police chief by vote of the people, I had seen his ads for reelection and remembered his name because it was very unusual.

Yes, a thing is simple when you know how it's done!

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Taxes, Pigeons and People
You will, no doubt, recognize the connection between taxes and people, and pigeons and people, but will probably wonder about the relationship between pigeons and taxes.

Recent developments in the Department of the Army brought to light a past relationship on the subject and a proposed future relationship. It seems that the Carrier Pigeon Division of the United States Army is being disbanded, and the last two birds that can claim fame as war hero message carriers have been presented to the Washington zoo. One of the birds is named 'Anzio Boy' and the other 'Global Girl.'

It is seriously doubted that the discontinuance of this carrier pigeon service will provide the means by which a sizeable reduction can be made in the budget of the Department of the Army, but it does show a willingness on the part of that branch of the service to make every effort to stop unnecessary expenditures.

There was a serious question as to what could be done with the pigeons and whether or not, because of their war service, they were entitled to a pension or other benefits. (The present economy drive played havoc with the pension talk).

Some suggested that an old-time pigeon pie might be in order, but this talk was immediately squelched on grounds that the military service of these birds certainly did not require that they also furnish the main dish at dinner. Some suggested that they simply be released and given their freedom to forage on their own in their declining years.

However, this was also frowned upon because of the manner in which they had been sheltered during their earlier years. One person suggested they be sold on the open market to heads of families in which there were ten-agers and only one telephone.

Frankly, I would wholeheartedly subscribe to this latter approach, because it is perhaps the only way that I would be able to communicate with my home in less than two hours. This would benefit everyone except the telephone company.

It would provide a home for the birds, a sure means of communication between a husband and wife, and fewer complaints against the teen-agers for staying on the phone all of the time.

In any event the birds will be taken care of in fine manner without materially affecting the tax liability of the people, generally.

Taxes

Speaking of taxes, I do want to pass on to you the general feeling of this subject in Washington. For many years any talk of a general tax cut was disbanded. However, in this session of Congress I have noticed more interest in the possibility of a general tax cut than in any other year since I have been here.

By a "general tax cut" I mean a tax cut that will have some material benefit for those in the lower income bracket who most need such a reduction. As I pointed out in a previous newsletter, my approach would be to increase the individual and dependent exemption allowances.

By doing this the tax cut would be fair to everyone concerned, and all would actually share equally in the cut. Others want to reduce the over-all tax rates. Certainly I would not be adverse to that procedure so long as those who need the cut most are not the victims of discrimination.

Another approach is to give a blanket dollar credit on the amount of taxes owed. In other words, if you owe $100 in taxes, this plan would allow you to subtract $20 from the amount you owe and pay to the government $80 in full payment of your tax liability.

The truth is I don't care how it is done. The time has come when a tax reduction is not only sorely desired by all of the people, but is necessary to properly stabilize and sustain our general economy.

People

Speaking of people, it may come as a surprise to many, but they are on the increase. To those statistically minded individuals who say a tax cut is impossible, I hasten to point out that only a few years ago some of these same group of people (statisticians, that is) definitely concluded that the population of this nation would reach 175 million in 1975.

Only this morning I had occasion to observe how wrong they were on that. I had been to the CAB to attend a hearing in which an air route to the Panhandle of Texas was involved. This Board is located in the Department of

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Interplanting of a legume such as Mung beans or Cowpeas with your grain sorghum crop is a good practice on irrigated land.

These legumes should not interfere with the combining of the grain sorghum crop. No additional moisture will be needed for the legumes since they make a good vegetative growth, shade the rows and you will not have as much moisture loss due to evaporation.

Be sure that the legume seed is inoculated with the proper culture before planting. Inoculation increases nodules on the roots for the production of nitrogen-fixing bacteria in the soil.

Legumes add nitrogen to the soil and contribute greatly to the maintenance of good quality organic matter. Organic matter improves the physical properties of the soil, increases the moisture holding capacity, and holds plant nutrients.

By improving the physical properties it makes a better soil structure that will increase water intake and reduce water erosion. Legumes also produce enough vegetative growth to reduce wind erosion.

Seeding rates for interplanting are: Mung beans, 24 pounds, Cowpeas, 4-6 pounds. They can be planted at the same time you plant your grain sorghum but different boxes should be used.

For further information on interplanting of legumes contact the Soil Conservation Service technicians or supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District.

Panel of Four Discuss Allergies

Mrs. Lewis Harvey, Mrs. Lee Roy West, Mrs. T. J. Meyers and Mrs. J. N. Seay conducted a round table discussion for the Westside Home Demonstration Club April 18 at a meeting in the home of Mrs. West. The women discussed asthma and hay fever and the causes and effects of the two allergies.

Roll call was answered with each member telling her allergy. Mrs. R. A. Burrus gave a report on rural family defense. It was announced that Mrs. J. T. Brown has received mental health association membership cards.

The next meeting will be May 1 with Mrs. Dick Barrett.

Las Amigas Meets With Mrs. Costley

The Las Amigas Home Demonstration Club will meet May 9 in the home of Mrs. Glen Costley. Thursday the club met in the home of Mrs. Don Olson. Roll call was answered with each member naming her allergy. Refreshments were served.

LET'S CHANGE THE SUBJECT

Husband: "This is a remarkable book. It proves how marvelous, how stupendous is nature. Whenever I read something like this, I realize how lowly and insignificant man is."

Wife: "A woman doesn't have to waste through 400 pages to learn that."

Commerce Building.

As I left the building I looked to my left and saw a huge calculator which computes the population of this nation every second as births, deaths, immigrations and emigrations occur.

The figure I saw on that computer this morning reflected the population of this country to be 170,644,543 at approximately 11 o'clock, April 18, 1957. At this rate, it means that the statisticians will have missed their guess by about 17½ years.

It is my opinion that they are just as wrong about the impossibility of a tax cut.

In 1955 many cooperative tests were made in Texas. In 15 of these test hybrid sorghums produced 21% more grain than the most popular standard variety. Regional tests were made in 9 states during the same year. The seven hybrids in these tests exceeded average yields of comparable variety by 33%—the average increase in return, per acre, was $11.00.

Little League Directors To Decide On Fencing and Lighting Thursday

Decisions on the outfield fence and programming of work to install the lighting system will be discussed at a Randall County Board of Directors meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the West Texas State Fieldhouse.

Bud Parker, league president, urged that all those on the board attend the meeting.

A group of league members spent Sunday and Monday taking down and hauling the lighting system from Turkey to Canyon. The lights will have to be installed and the diamond finished in a month in order to have the facilities ready for the first game of the season on June 3.

Tryouts for the league teams will begin Monday afternoon with 8, 9 and 10-year-old boys practicing. The tryouts for that age group will continue Tuesday. Boys in the 11-year-old age group will tryout May 9 and 10, and those 12 years old will tryout May 13 and 14.

E. B. Henderson Dies Tuesday Here

Edwin B. Henderson, father of Mrs. Victor P. Hill, died at 9:55 p. m. Tuesday in Mrs. Hill's home in Canyon. Funeral services will be held in Thompson, Ga. Final arrangements are pending.

Mr. Henderson would have been 82 years old Friday. He was born in Georgia. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carter visited Sunday with Mrs. R. L. Carter in Cactus.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gum and Royce were in Shamrock Sunday visiting in the home of Judge and Mrs. Clarence Morris and family.

County Orders Bell ROW Suits

Condemnation suits for two tracts of land needed for right of way for the Bell Avenue widening were authorized Monday by the Randall County Commissioners Court.

The suits were authorized against the Bush Estate and Glenn Casey. Commissioner C. Y. Johnson told the commission that he had been unable to complete negotiations for the land with the two owners.

Bell Avenue will be widened and paved as a joint project by Randall County, Potter County and the City of Amarillo, and will serve as the explosive truck route instead of Western Avenue.

In other action, the court accepted two bids from Tom W. Carpenter Equipment Company for two pieces of machinery. One was a bid of $1410 for a nine-wheel pneumatic roller. The bids had been taken several weeks ago and Carpenter's was the low bid.

The second bid was $5250 for an elevating grader attachment. Carpenter's was the only bid received.

The roller will go to Precinct 3 and the grader attachment will go to Precinct 1.

Services Today for Richard T. Guyer

Funeral services for Richard Todd Guyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Guyer, will be conducted at 2 p. m. today in Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the First Methodist Church. He will be assisted by Dr. H. Clyde Smith.

Burial will be in Llano Cemetery in Amarillo.

Richard, 2, died of a bone disease early Tuesday morning in Neblett Hospital. He had been brought here by his parents from their home in Burbank, Calif.

In addition to his parents, survivors include a sister, Vicki; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Duvall, Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Guyer, Canyon; and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carter, Canyon, E. F. Kindred, Dumas, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Duvall, Edmonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lynn Axe of Dimmitt are the parents of a daughter, Donna Lynn, born April 26. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Axe of Dimmitt.

Prepare for 300 At Bible Chair

Preparations are being made for 800 persons to attend the third annual Church of Christ Bible Chair fellowship meeting here at West Texas State College Tuesday, according to C. L. Kay, chair director.

More than 500 attended the meeting here last year, and 250 were on the campus for the first session two years ago.

Featuring "The Christian Student in College Life," the meeting is expected to attract Church of Christ members from throughout the Panhandle area. Kay said he had invited congregations from 90 churches, as well as parents, ministers and lay leaders in the churches.

A welcome will be given by WT President James P. Cornette, and Dean Walter H. Juniper will speak on WT's undergraduate and graduate programs.

Speakers will include Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock, and John G. Reese, minister of the San Jacinto Church of Christ in Amarillo.

The meeting will start at 7 p. m., when guests will be served dinner in the college cafeteria, with a formal program in the Administration Building auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Groups of visitors will tour the new Church of Christ student center and other points on the campus, and exhibits of college work will be displayed at the center.

Kay will outline the work of the WT center to visitors, and will be assisted by a number of college students who are Church of Christ members.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Smith of Borger visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Byars, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Golden Green of Earth, Texas, spent the day with his sister, Mrs. Jeannette Robbins, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Taylor and family left Sunday morning for Dallas and Austin for a few days.

GOLFERS NOTICE
Members of the Canyon City Club are urged to qualify for the golf tournament which starts May 12. An 18 hole qualifying score must be posted in the pro shop by May 8.

Rabbit, Rabbit, Where's She Now?

The Canyon Jaycees kicked off a membership drive Tuesday night when newly-installed President Wayne Wirt presented the new first vice president, Jerry LaGrone, with a rabbit—one that is in a family way.

When LaGrone has enrolled a new Jaycee in the club, he may pass the rabbit on to another member. If the rabbit becomes a mother while in the possession of a member, he must get one new member for each of the babies and the mother, too.

Gerald Hale of Hereford, a state Jaycee vice president, was guest speaker at the installation banquet. Guests were wives of the Jaycees, their friends and Jaycees from Amarillo and Hereford.

In addition to Wirt and LaGrone, the new officers are Charles Rittenberry, second vice president; Bill Henry, secretary; John Carlisle, treasurer; and Wilbur Truitt, state director.

Members of the board of directors are Lindsey Taylor, Charles Parks, Billy Ray Crow and Billy Joe McCarter.

The boys began to practice before time to compete. Richie Brotherton began to be able to get a fire occasionally, but when competition began at 10 a. m., it was still uncertain whether he would get a fire or not.

However, Richie was the first to get a fire and his water boiled over the top of his pan more than two minutes before his closest competitor.

For his good work, Richie was chosen as the outstanding Scout from Troop 66 to compete in the mystery event.

Individual high point medals were presented to the boys who made the highest scores in Archery, Baitcasting and Marksmanship.

Alan Hanks and Dewaine Clay tied for first place in Archery.

Larry Brotherton was high in Baitcasting. Ronnie Moore of Troop 10 was high in Marksmanship.

The boys who attended the field day from Troop 66 were Larry Brotherton, Richie Brotherton, Marvin Hutton, Marvin Arnpriester, Eugene Blasdel, James Boyd, Wallace Busted, Mike Callihan, Dewaine Clay, Bobby Dorris, Bobby Haggard, Ronny Harris, Larry Holman, Robert Hutton, Larry Moore, Elo Myers, Bill Phillips, Ralph Kuehn and Lawrence Lewis.

Cherry Blossoms

BY DOVIE CHERRY

The Ray Metcalfs who live northwest of town have a new red brick home.

Inside there's lots of space for the family of five. The front entrance leads into the spacious, combination living room and dining room painted in a light beige toned with a bit of rose.

Brown tones were the basis for the color scheme of the house and featured in the living room are a chocolate brown and gold fleck sofa and sectional.

A wall-to-wall toast carpet was used in the dining room and living room and at the windows are scenic casements with a nomad background and turquoise, coral and brown design.

The length of the combined rooms is broken partially by birch cabinets topped by open, carved shelves. In the cabinets, Mrs. Metcalf keeps her china, crystal and silver handy for entertaining in the dining room.

Immediately to the west of the dining room is the kitchen with three walls of natural finish birch cabinets and storage space. The cabinets, complete with several lazy-susan shelves, ventilation fan, and built-in mixer, have room for everything.

The kitchen table, from which the family can see the television in the den is not only a favorite spot but has ended the conflicting problem on meal-times and television shows. Like the dining room and living room, the kitchen and den are combined, broken by a partial partition.

The partition between the den and kitchen is a combination knee-hole desk on one side and a magazine rack on the other. Cabinets and whatnot shelves are also part of the partition.

The den, 17x21, has room for activities varying from games to reading and television viewing. As with most families who have a den, the Metcalfs find they "live" in this room.

Brown and aqua are the basic colors in the room. Birch paneling is used on the walls and serviceable, brown embossed linoleum flooring with colors of coral and turquoise are in both the den and kitchen.

A built-in desk and book shelves are part of the east wall of the den as are a game closet and a larger closet with space for a roll-way bed and other equipment.

A utility room adjoins the kitchen on the west sides. Part of the utility room has been built as Mrs. Metcalf's sewing center. The north end of the center provides Formica topped cabinets for storing materials, patterns and sewing equipment.

A special cutting board pulls out from the cabinet like a bread board. Automatic washer and dryer and various storage cabinets for repair tools, cleaning materials, work coats and clothes complete the utility room.

Mrs. Metcalf chose brown, cafe curtains of a nubby fabric for the window above the sewing center. The same curtains are in the back bathroom adjoining the utility room. Again, tones of brown were used here.

To the west of the den is the west, enclosed entrance which protects the den from dust. Windows on each side of the entrance give plenty of light for the den.

A door on the west of the den also leads into the more than double garage with room for two cars, hot water heater, deep freeze and still some room left over.

Back in the house and this time to the south side of the building. Here are the three bedrooms. The boys' room is in blue with blue walls, blue carpet and blue, cotton check bedspreads for the oak twin beds and matching blue check curtains for the windows. Double, walk-in closets give plenty of space for everything Jack and Glen might need to store.

An out-of-season closet for the whole family is built at one end of the boy's room.

Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf's room has aqua walls, brown tweed carpet and matching copper bedspread and drapes. Double closets with sliding doors were also built in their room.

Linda's room is full of sugar and spice, perfect for a young girl. The walls are a rose color and she has gathered, brown print curtains at the windows which match the brown coverlet with brown and yellow flounce.

The same brown tweed carpet is in Linda's room as is in her parents' room, but where the carpet appears a true brown in the aqua room, the carpet appears to have a rose background in her room.

Pink and gray were chosen for the front bathroom. The bathroom has pink ceramic tile, sandalwood colored bathroom fixtures and a dressing table topped with grey Vermica. Embossed linoleum is also in the bathroom but with colors of grey and pink.

Spacious linen closet storage is in the hall in a large closet with sliding doors and a much smaller one on the opposite wall. Another closet in the hall conceals the central heating system.

The Metcalfs are glad they built their new home while their children are still at home. Mrs. Metcalf believes that a home built while the children can live in it and enjoy it is much more pleasure than a home built after the children have gone off to school or married.

The house may be completed, but the Metcalfs still have a lot to look forward to in the landscaping around the house. They already had a windbreak planted three years ago, but there are trees, bushes and flowers plus an outdoor fireplace which they plan to put in soon.

☆ ☆ ☆ While on the subject of new homes and such, I might as well mention an interesting bit of information that I was told this weekend.

According to a friend, the sometimes nauseating smell of fresh paint can be avoided by adding a teaspoon of vanilla to a bucket of paint. She vouches that there will be no coloring from the vanilla and that the smell of paint will be subdued.

☆ ☆ ☆ I also learned recently that a grey-haired woman planning to redecorate a room should never paint the walls brown or use extensively any brown tones. The brown doesn't compliment the grey-haired woman a bit.

New Oven Really Cooks in 'Just a Jiffy'

Did you ever plan to have baked potatoes for dinner then forget all about it only to remember a few minutes before dinner time?

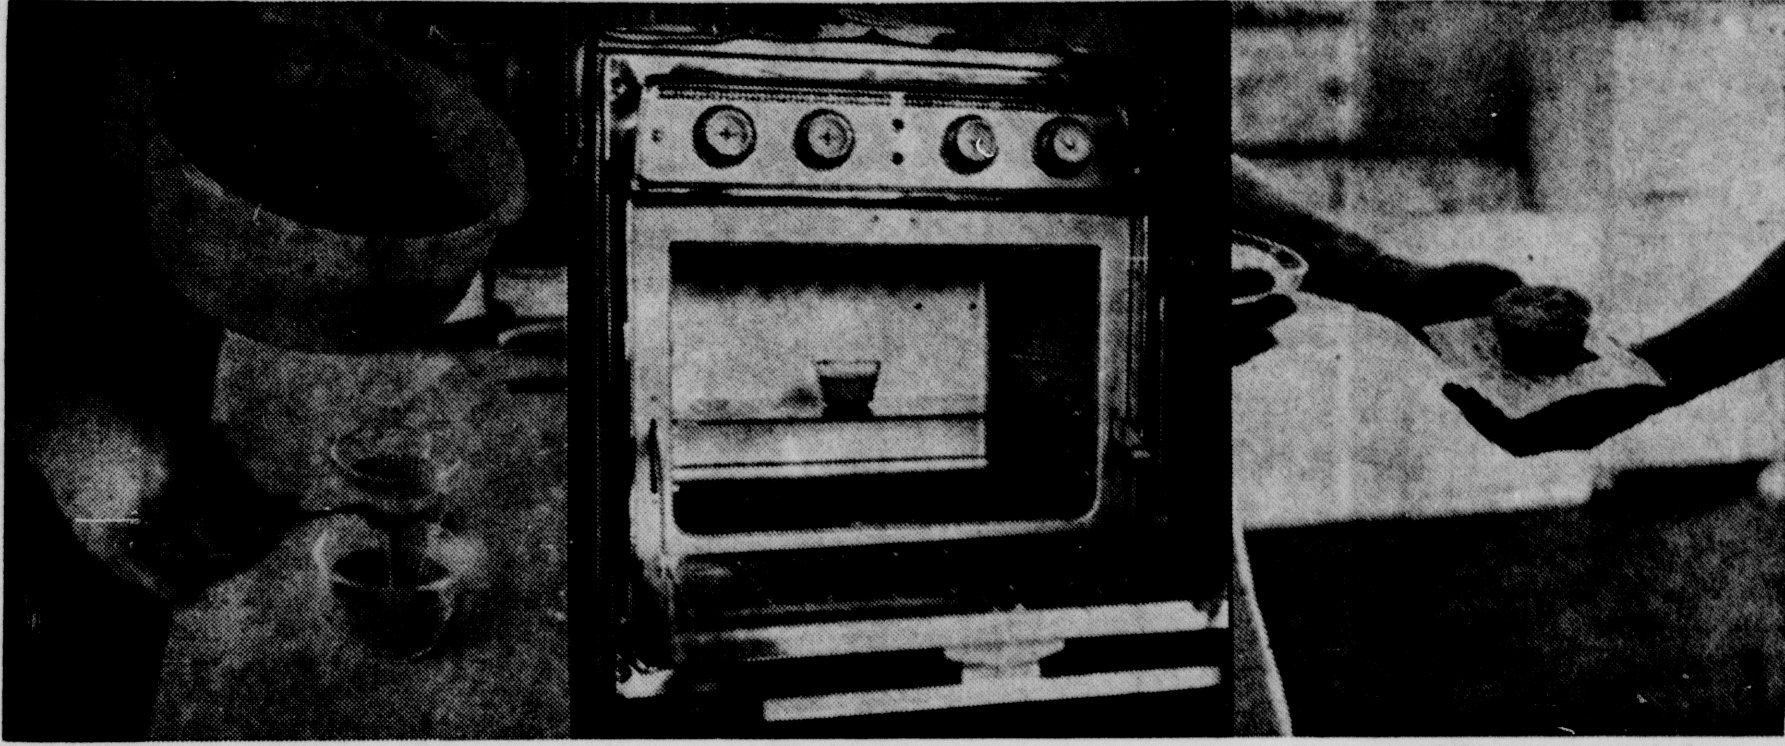

If you have, then you would appreciate the electronic oven, for with this oven those few minutes would be all you needed. An average size Irish potato can be cooked in the oven in four minutes.

In fact, if you dislike cooking simply because it takes so much time, then this oven would be your answer. On display at Wayne Wirt Electric, the electronic miracle is a little hard to believe.

Demonstrating the oven, Barbara Wirt put in a muffin to cook. She hardly had time to catch her breath before it was done. Time—30 seconds.

In fact, she said that the electronic range had already come to her rescue. A few days ago, she was to cook a dessert and have it ready soon after 6 p. m. She was so busy during the day, she forgot all about the dessert, but by using the electronic range she was able to whip up a mix and cook it all in 10 minutes.

Other foods take a similarly unbelievable time to cook. A five-pound roast took only 30 minutes. An egg was ready for eating in 20 seconds.

Pour in the batter . . .

. . . 30 seconds in here . . .

. . . and have a cupcake!

In a hurry in the morning and wishing the bacon would get done? Well, you would have to get the family out of bed before you put bacon in the oven of this speed demon, or they might just miss out on the treat. Time for cooking bacon is only one minute and 30 seconds.

An electronic range cooks not with heat but with microwaves. The principle involved, as Barbara Wirt explains it, is for microwaves to aggragate the molecules in the food. They begin to move rapidly and collide with each other. This in turn generates heat and cooks the food.

The sides of the oven are aluminum and neither they, nor the spun glass tray on which the food is placed, get hot. The container in which the food is cooked gets hot, but it is warmed from the heat of the food, not from the waves.

Only glass and paper may be used as cooking containers and a piece of paper is placed over greasy foods to avoid spattering. If some food gets on the interior sides of the oven, there's no cleaning problem since the sides don't get warm and the food may be simply wiped off.

Metal cannot be used to cook in as the microwaves will only bounce off the metal and will not reach the food.

Instead of a heat control there is a minute and second time control. One control on the right is for cooking time and the opposite one is for browning time.

What happens if the cook accidentally gets his or her hand in the oven while the oven is on? Nothing. Once the oven door is opened, the microwaves are stopped. If a hand could be put in the oven while the microwaves were generating there would be a severe burn in only a few seconds.

The electronic range can even pop corn. All it requires is a sack to put the corn in and about three minutes time. The corn begins to pop in one minute and 15 seconds. No grease is used to pop the corn.

Take a piece of stale bread, put it in the oven and in 20 seconds it's fresh and flavorful again.

Time is not the only advantage of the electronic range. Much of the flavor lost in regular range cooking is retained. Vitamins are also saved.

But, nothing is perfect. The electronic range also has its disadvantages. Milk will boil almost instantly in the range; it would be rather difficult to scramble eggs; and other food which needs constant stirring could not be prepared due to the speed of electronic cooking.

Perhaps an additional two burner, apartment type stove, would take care of these cooking difficulties.

At present there is another extra big disadvantage—the price. Electronic ranges are now built by hand and cost $1195. Time Magazine reported last week, though, that Raytheon is working to cut the cost to about $500.

Recently, Purina research workers asked poultry staff men in 9 leading poultry states to estimate the total amount of feed required—on the average—to grow a pullet in their states. Shown here is the average of the figures they supplied, compared with Purina feed requirements based on records of thousands of pullets raised at the Purina Research Farms.

FEED REQUIRED TO GROW OUT PULLETS*
	Light Breeds	Heavy Breeds
9-state average . . . . .	23.1 lbs.	28.0 lbs.
Purina Program average . . .	19.3 lbs.	23.8 lbs.
Saving per pullet on Purina . .	3.8 lbs.	4.2 lbs.
Saving per 1000 . . . . .	3800.0 lbs.	4200.0 lbs.

*From day-old to laying here's how to grow 1000 sturdy, big-framed Purina pullets on 2500 pounds less feed

Most poultry raisers recognize that Purina Growing Chows have the quality and ingredients to grow sturdy, big-framed pullets. But not all realize that Purina Chow efficiency often makes it much lower in feeding cost than feeds with cheaper price tags. The comparison in the table above shows the important difference in number of pounds of feed needed to grow out Purina pullets, compared with the average in 9 leading poultry states. Rather than to claim the full amount of saving shown in this comparison, the Purina Research staff rounded off the figures to 2500 pounds less Purina Chow for light breeds, and 4000 for heavy breeds.

This saving of feed increases the feeding value of Purina complete Growing Chow by 60¢ to 80¢ per bag (100 lbs.) . . . or $1.20 to $1.60 a bag extra value for Growing Chow fed with scratch grain.

Thousands of poultrymen have found that they can use high-quality feed . . . and make money doing it. We know this, and we're anxious to show you how you may cut feed cost with your pullets.

Pullet Health Hint—Now, with Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer, you can worm each 100 pullets for less than 25¢! Best time is when they are 10 to 12 weeks old, with a second treatment just before housing if your ranges are used heavily. It takes only one dose in the drinking water. ## Romilda Gerber, Jerome Friemel Married in Impressive Ceremony

In an impressive morning ceremony April 24, Romilda Mary Gerber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gerber, became the bride of Jerome Louis Friemel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Friemel. Father Andrew Marthaler officiated at the double-ring ceremony in St. Mary's Church, Umbarger.

St. Mary's Choir, accompanied by Mary Janssen, sang the Missa Clara and Ave Maria for the offertory hymn. The altars were decorated with Easter lilies.

The bride was attended by Marcela Prillas, maid of honor; Joyce Friemel, sister of the bridegroom; and Shirley Albracht, cousin of the bride.

All the attendants were dressed in identically styled dresses of crystalline with fitted bodices featuring beauteu necklines and full, ballerina length skirts. The maid of honor's dress was of yellow crystalline and the bridesmaids were of lilac pink. All wore matching sailor hats accented with tiny seed pearls, and carried bouquets of lavender and gold chrysanthemums made in the form of a cross.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Sharon Gerber and Gaylan Friemel. Sharon's attire was identical to that of the other attendants and was in yellow.

Groomsmen were Tommy Gerber, Bob Wieck and Alan Brockman.

Canyon Drive-In Theatre Re-opening Friday.

News Want Ads Get Results!

As the maid of honor and bridesmaids approached the altar, they were met by the groomsmen and escorted to benches flanking the aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was met midway in the church by the celebrant, Father Marthaler, and the bridegroom. As the bride was presented to the bridegroom, the priest spoke to the couple of the sacredness of the wedding vows and then admitted them to the altar.

The bride wore a white brocaded satin dress with a cathedral train. The waist of the dress was fashioned with a pleated cummerbund and the bodice was accented with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her finger-tip veil was of illusion.

As both the bride and bridegroom were members of The Children of Mary Sodality, they were presented statues of the Blessed Mother and Sacred Heart of Jesus. Don Gerber and Margaret Friemel presented the statues.

Following the acceptance of the statues by the couple, the statues were placed on the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary and the couple consecrated themselves to the Blessed Mother following which the bride presented a bouquet of the Blessed Mother.

The couple and wedding party were feted at a breakfast in the Math Albracht home. Dinner was in the Herbert Friemel residence and the afternoon reception in the home of the bride's parents. A dance was held in St. Mary's Hall.

Mrs. Friemel is a graduate of Umbarger High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Price College of Amarillo and has served two years of active duty in the U. S. Army and is engaged in farming in Vega.

Auditing officer is Oscar Schuette. Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Bladell will head legislation and R. D. Wheelock will take care of recreation.

SO THAT EXPLAINS IT

Man, looking at some neckties tossed one or two aside rather contemptuously. Lingered after having made his purchase, he noticed that the clerk put those he had so positively rejected in a separate box. "We have orders to keep such ties apart from the others," the clerk explained, "that is, after they have been turned down by several customers, as these have been."

"What becomes of them?" inquired the other.

"We sell them to the women who come in here to buy ties for men," was the reply.
